West of Eden

A seminal work in the annals of science fiction, West of Eden transports readers to a post-apocalyptic Earth where humanity has reverted to a primitive state. In this unforgiving dystopia, a group of survivors struggles to rebuild a semblance of civilization, haunted by the horrors of the past and the uncertain future that lies ahead.

Harrison's keen observation of human nature and his mastery of dystopian storytelling combine to create a gripping and thought-provoking narrative. West of Eden is a cautionary tale about the fragility of civilization and the indomitable spirit of survival that resides within us all.

Deathworld

In Deathworld, Harrison unleashes a captivating adventure set on the perilous planet Pyrrus VII. Jason dinAlt, a skilled and dauntless explorer, embarks on a mission to conquer this hostile world, teeming with bloodthirsty creatures and unforgiving terrain.

Harrison's vivid depiction of Pyrrus VII's unforgiving ecosystem transports readers to the heart of an alien and dangerous environment. Deathworld is a thrilling tale of survival, courage, and the unyielding quest for knowledge.

To the Stars

To the Stars marks the culmination of Harrison's Star Smashers trilogy, envisioning a far-flung future where humanity has spread its wings across the galaxy. The story follows Dirk t'Larien, a brilliant physicist, as he unravels a conspiracy that threatens to plunge the interstellar federation into chaos.

Harrison's prescient foresight and his deft handling of complex scientific concepts make To the Stars a captivating and thought-provoking exploration of space, time, and the limits of human ambition.

The Master of Science Fiction
